McAngus Goudelock & Courie, a regional insurance defense firm, is pleased to announce that after spending 13 years in the firm’s Columbia office practicing litigation, Charles “Bo” Williams has moved to the Greenville office.

Williams’ practice continues to focus on civil litigation, including personal injury actions involving premises liability, products liability and automobile negligence. A large part of his practice also focuses on construction defect litigation. Williams earned his juris doctor from the University of South Carolina School of Law and his bachelor of arts degree from Washington and Lee University. He is a member of the South Carolina Bar Association, Richland County Bar Association, South Carolina Defense Trial Attorneys’ Association, Defense Research Institute and Claims and Litigation Management Alliance. He also serves on the Defense Research Institute’s Retail and Hospitality Committee. Williams was included in Columbia Business Monthly’s “Midlands Legal Elite” in 2014 and holds an “AV Preeminent” rating by Martindale-Hubbell.

“We are happy for Bo and his family as they relocate to our Greenville office. Bo is a great lawyer and will add additional depth to our update litigation practice,” said Jay Courie, MGC’s Managing Member.
