Lynn Olmert's practice focuses on workers' compensation defense in the firm's Atlanta office. She has extensive trial experience in general liability cases on behalf of insurance companies and their commercial insureds in both Georgia and Maryland. Lynn has significant first-chair jury trial experience and has tried numerous workers' compensation cases. She frequently presents on workers' compensation issues to employers, insurers and colleagues at the State Bar of Georgia. Lynn was selected to the Governor's short list of nominees for the position of Administrative Law Judge for the Georgia State Board of Workers' Compensation. Prior to joining MGC, Lynn practiced law in both Atlanta and the Baltimore-Washington area. She currently serves on the firm's Diversity & Inclusion committee.

Outside of the office, Lynn can be found crossing the finish line at a marathon or triathlon, as well as raising money for the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society through Team-in-Training. She is also an active member of Mount Paran Church.
