Attorneys in MGC's North Carolina Offices with Board Certifications Total 15

McAngus Goudelock & Courie, a regional insurance defense firm, is pleased to announce that Laura Carter and Viral Mehta have become Board Certified Specialists in Workers' Compensation Law. This brings the total number of attorneys in MGC's North Carolina offices with Board Certifications in Workers' Compensation Law to 15.

A lawyer may not claim that he or she is a "specialist" unless the lawyer is certified as a specialist by the North Carolina State Bar's Board of Legal Specialization or a certifying organization that has been approved by the American Bar Association.

"We are proud of Laura and Viral for achieving this certification. It takes significant experience, knowledge and dedication to become a Board Certified Specialist," said George Kurani, attorney leading the firm's Charlotte office. "To have 15 Board Certified Specialists in Workers' Compensation Law in our North Carolina offices exemplifies MGC's commitment to the legal profession and our clients. We are determined to provide the best possible service, and our attorneys are proving they have the experience and knowledge to meet client needs."

Carter is located in the firm's Raleigh office and focuses primarily on workers' compensation. She earned her juris doctor from the University of Kentucky College of Law and her bachelor of arts from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Carter is a member of the North Carolina Bar Association's Workers' Compensation section, the North Carolina State Bar Association, the North Carolina Association of Defense Attorneys and the Defense Research Institute.

Mehta is located in the firm's Charlotte office and also focuses on workers' compensation. He earned his juris doctor from Wake Forest University School of Law and his bachelor of arts from Davidson College. Mehta is a member of the North Carolina Bar Association, the Mecklenburg County Bar Association and the North Carolina Association of Defense Attorneys, where he serves as Vice Chair of the Diversity Committee.
